Reading Comprehension

It was science time in Miss. Smith's class. Carlo and his three group partners reported their observations about the birds in the cage. They described the birds while their classmates watched and listened. They reported the characteristics of the birds such as what they eat, drink, and what they like to do. After the report, the class asked some questions about the findings. Carlo's group was able to answer their questions.

1. Whose group will report?
2. What was their report about?
3. Where were the birds?
4. What did their classmates do after their report?
